Water, Fire, Rock and Tree

"Landscapes are an analogy to my life's journey and have been distilled into these 4 main elements. Water is the fluidity of existence. The nebulous quality moves, changes, cools and forgives. Fire is the passionate self, and the regeneration of soul and spirit, the all consuming tempest, then, followed by a 'cleansing'. Rocks are the earth's tablets for communication, broken words or letters, symbols in the sand. Trees are the poems that earth writes, through its roots into generations of soil and half buried dreams. Trees, with its branches reaching out into the sky, scratching on the moon and sometimes leaning into the moaning winds, or stretched upwards towards the rain.

Time and place become irrelevant."

Find out more about Astrid and the meaning behind her work while you watch her paint.

Easter Saturday between 11am and 2pm at Jahroc Galleries

Furniture news

David and Gary have been busy finding unique pieces of timber in the drying racks and turning them into one off furniture pieces. After a very busy Summer, with lots of stock walking out the door, you will enjoy these new and exciting pieces of functional art.

Wait till you see what this amazing Jarrah slab turns into...see if you can find it in the gallery as a finished piece of furniture.

Gary, Lara, David and Joanne look forward to seeing you over the Easter holidays
