"Rivermouth Rockpools" by Larry Mitchell

"Canopy Display Cabinet" by Gary Bennett and David Paris

"When Larry Mitchell approached us to do a collaborative exhibition inspired the Margaret River region David and I jumped at the opportunity. We have worked and travelled with Larry extensively over the past 8 years and have learnt so much from him in terms of interpreting our land and sea scapes. As Larry says "it's always a loose arrangement when we work together but come exhibition night the connection between paintings and furniture is strong" Having collaborated with Shaun Atkinson in 2004 for our highly successful "Silhouette" project we thought it would be fun to revisit our home turf from a different perspective. There's just so much creative inspiration to be gained from our region I feel like I could go on for years producing work and still find new ways to interpret our surroundings and I'm sure Larry would feel the same. In our body of work we have encompassed the forest, our timbers, the surf (and surfboards) and have included our "tip of the hat" to Geoff Juniper who was my early inspiration to embark on a furniture making career. This region has an energy that is hard to explain and it seems to attract very creative people. We just feel very lucky to be able to live here and continually soak it up.

Larry Mitchell's painting's speak for themselves of course" Gary Bennett
